DANIELSON

Sidney P. Bard, Sherwood Potter, Marshall J. Frink, Elliott E. Allen, Linwood Chapman and Rev. John R. Pratt are members of the organization of county Y. M. C. A. work. The committee was named after a conference of Brooklyn citizens at which County Secretary J. H. Corbett of Putnam was in attendance. A meeting of young men and boys of Putnam has been called for Nov. 7 at Putnam hall and plans for the part Brooklyn is to have in the county work will be discussed and mapped out at that time.

Beginning today bottled milk from pure bred Holstein cows will be on sale at the Attawaugus house restaurant, prices 12 cents quart. More cream guaranteed on top of this milk than from any sold in Danielson—adv.

The usual hazardous chances in handling fire are to be built up leaves are not being taken daily in many sections of the town. Trees have been practically stripped of leaves this week and the work of clearing them from lawns, walks and gutters is in progress. A common practice is to take the leaves into great piles, apply the match and, in some cases, to leave the fire unattended. This practice has been warned against by the department officials everywhere. Their advice is never to set a fire to burn leaves on a windy day, never leave such a fire unattended, never leave such a fire to the uncertain care of children. Be sure that leaves have been burned a sufficient far away from a building to protect it from danger.

Many in no way connected with railroad operation, but dependent upon their smooth running, in great degree, for their own bread and butter, are on the anxious seat in Danielson over what the next three days may bring forth in the threatening situation confronting the country.

A cause for protest by citizens and drivers who can control themselves sufficiently not to indulge in Barnes Oldfield stunts. A crash of three cars was narrowly averted at the junction of Main and Franklin streets late Thursday afternoon on account of the recklessly fast driving of the operator of one machine.

The Western Congregational church of Danielson will be represented at Putnam next Monday at a council called to dismiss Rev. Boynton Merrill from the local field of labor. Rev. Mr. Merrill is going as associate pastor to the Old South church, Boston.

A number of Halloween socials are planned for Monday evening in Danielson and villages hereabouts. A ledge that rises nearly 10 feet at the distance of 100 feet from the present state highway east of the Gallup farm is to be blown out in the next few weeks to get rock for the foundation of the state highway to be built to Little East. A steam drill is already at work and holes 10 feet deep are being put down into solid rock, an entire shaft of which 20 feet in height and double that length is to be blown out at one time. A roadway is being built from the ledge to where the crusher has been set up to make easier the transportation of the stone.

If weather conditions permit, getting out stops will continue until very late in the season. Numbers of snakes have been found hidden away in their winter quarters in the ledge, but these are making off now that drilling operations are under way and disappear from the entire immediate territory as soon as blasting is begun.

Nothing less than a life sentence will convince some riders of bicycles that they must equip their machines with suitable lights if they are going to do night riding in spite of all the warnings and rebukes of arrest, numbers of bicyclists continue to ride about as calmly as though they never heard of the lighting law. Motorists are fearful of injuring some of these law-breaking bicyclists, for frequently it is impossible to see them until it is almost impossible to avoid a collision.

The time is rapidly drawing to a close for filing lists of taxable property with the assessors of Killingly, who are daily sifting in their office in the town hall building. After Tuesday next those who have not filed lists will be subjected to a 10 per cent penalty.

PUTNAM

Police were busy themselves on Thursday with an investigation of the circumstances surrounding a crash, about 8:50 Wednesday evening, between a car driven by Harold Moriarty and owned by Oliver P. Bancroft, and a new Ford sedan driven by August Durand. No one was injured, but the cars were considerably damaged, the sedan being turned over and considerably scarred.

Moriarty was coming out of Richmond into Main street at the time of the accident and Durand was coming down Main street. A crowd quickly collected and willing hands assisted in straightening out the tangle.

Manager Jacob Alpert, of the Victory theater, said Thursday morning that he expects to vacate the house early in the coming week, in accordance with a decision against him in a case recently before the supreme court of the state.

Some details of turning the theater over to Nazaria Poliquin, who is the owner of the theater building and who is to manage the house, were being worked out on Thursday.

Eight champion Boston terriers, the property of Mrs. George B. Dresner, were taken from this city to New York Thursday afternoon to be shown at the exhibit to be held today (Friday) and Saturday at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The Dresner kennel of more than a score of dogs includes some of the finest Boston terriers in the world, and people here will be interested in their success at the New York show.

An aeroplane flying so high that even the sound of the motor was inaudible swept gracefully over this city about 11:30 p. m. Thursday. Some sharp-eyed citizens caught sight of the plane and in half a minute a crowd was watching its flight. Planes are now seen almost daily taking flight over Putnam and are assumed to be engaged in the new mail service between Washington and Boston, in which direction the plane seen Thursday was heading.

A day book of Calvin Randall & Co., proprietors of a general store at which business was being done in Thompson in 1830 has come into the hands of Captain J. H. Bulger and was being given attention at the office of Torrey and Gelsinger on Thursday.

Perusal of its pages and the charges made therefor furnish interesting amusement and some comparative data that
